Project Next Generation Lab Hours Return in October

Starting October 4, 2021, the Marion Carnegie Library Technology Lab (located across the hall from the Children's Department) will be open and available to anyone age 10 - 18 for Project Next Generation lab hours! The lab will be open Monday - Thursday from 4pm until 8pm.

Project Next Generation (PNG), a program offered by the State of Illinois, offers grant funding to public libraries for the establishment of after-school programs that provide access to computers, software, technology, and mentors who help students develop self-confidence and pride in their newly developed skills.

Throughout each month, Marion Carnegie Library offers several PNG programs (aside from just the open lab), so keep an eye on the back page of the Container, throughout the library, and on various online calendars to stay up to date.

Join Henry, our PNG Mentor, and learn what Project Next Generation is all about!

KNOWLEDGE IS FREE AT THE LIBRARY. JUST BRING YOUR OWN CONTAINER. UNKNOWN

Keep an eye on November's issue of the container for pictures of our favorite costumes!

PROJECT NEXT GENERATION SPOTLIGHT

Kids, ages 10 to 18, are you ready to learn about some awesome new science and technology concepts? In October, join Mande in performing an autopsy on a fetal pig (cool, right?), and in creating your very own design and using our heat press to put that design on a T-shirt.

Henry will be available Monday - Thursday afternoons during Open Lab hours, and you can join him on Saturdays to work on digital audio recording. See you there!.

Welcome, Hunter!

Marion Carnegie Library is proud to welcome a new librarian into the mix. Hunter Nesselroad joined the MCL staff in mid-September, and you'll find him working mainly as a Main Floor librarian throughout the week.

Hunter is originally from Galesburg, IL. He loves Science Fiction and Fantasy books, and always has great recommendations if you're looking for something to read!

We're so glad to have Hunter on the MCL team!
